

FIFTEEN THOUSAND MEN WILL MARCH IN UNION LABOR PARADE TONIGHT

Greatest Labor Demonstration Ever Made
In Southland Will be Guarded by Entire Los Angeles Police

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Union Labor officials this afternoon completed plans for the greatest labor parade in the history of Southern California. At the same time Chief Galloway completed police arrangements for the evening.

When the Unionists, fifteen thousand strong, start on their march tonight, Chief Galloway, with a detail of mounted police will ride at the head of the column, and at intervals on either side of the marchers, patrolmen will march.

The Unionists informed the police that they will not hold themselves responsible for any fights occurring on the sidewalk during the parade, and the police have promised to absolve them of blame if such fights occur. A prominent labor leader this afternoon alleged that he knows of a plot to fill the parade line with non-unionists who will be paid to make demonstrations and "start something." He refused to make specific charges.

"Our men" said the laborite, "have been instructed to preserve their dignity no matter whether or not jibes are hurled at them tonight. There will not be any trouble, as we are working with the police to prevent it."

It is known that almost the entire police force will be on parade duty, leaving the outlying districts practically without police protection during the parade. The chief's plans are severely condemned in many quarters because of this.

The 15,000 men in line will march from the Labor Temple to Fiesta Park, where a rally will be held. Prominent labor leaders will address the meeting at the park. Among those who will speak are: P. H. McCarthy, Mayor of San Francisco; J. Stitt Wilson, Socialist candidate for governor, and Stanley B. Wilson, editor of the Citizen.

City Today—Police Used
Clubs on Strikers

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Officers of the International Garment Makers Union predict the strike which has already resulted in a score of riots here, will spread throughout the country unless the work being done in other cities for the employers here discontinues. Several formal notices were served today on the employers in other cities demanding them to discontinue Chicago work. Shops in Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Detroit, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Des Moines are reported affected by the order.

AGREEMENT BLOCKED BY OPEN SHOP QUESTION

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Members of the Board of Arbitration conferred with the leaders of the garment makers strike today. The question of open shop prevented an agreement. Both sides expressed a willingness to arbitrate all other phases of the strike.

Despite extra police precautions, rioting occurred at half a dozen points this afternoon. Shops where non-unionists worked were showered with stones. Police beat the rioters with clubs and quelled the disturbances.

EYE IN CHICAGO STRIKE

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Jack Johnson was struck on the head by a brick thrown by a sympathizer of the striking garment makers, when the fighter entered a non-union taxicab, and was momentarily stunned. A large gash was cut over his eye. Johnson had his head bandaged, and started to New York, where he will make campaign speeches among the negroes.

AVIATORS ON WING FOR LONG DISTANCE RECORD

LONDON, Nov. 3.—With Gaudron as pilot and four passengers aboard the Daily Graphic, the largest balloon built in England, left the Crystal Palace yesterday afternoon for Russia, in an attempt to make a new long distance record.

The record that the Daily Graphic must surpass is now held by two Americans, Allan Hawley and Augustus Post, who recently flew from St. Louis to a point in Northern Quebec, a distance of 1255 miles.

A balloon started to Siberia in 1908 by the Daily Graphic, was compelled by a gale to descend after having covered 1150 miles.

MERCHANTS BOARD HAS GIVEN ENDORSEMENT TO AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

Provisions of Proposed Change in Taxation Explained by Oakland Man;
Matter was Discussed

The board of directors of the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association last night passed a resolution approving the proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 1, which heads the list of proposed amendments on the ballots to be used next Tuesday.

The resolution was adopted after a long discussion of the amendment and the plan of its working if voted. Harry C. Lucas of Oakland, assistant secretary of the campaign committee of the Associated Realty Boards of California, was present and went into the proposition at some length, and for over an hour directors of the M. & M. plied him with questions. Attorney H. J. Forgy of the M. & M. was also present. The end of the investigation was the passage of the resolution of endorsement.

Lucas read from a report of the Commission on Revenue and Taxation, of which Gov. Gillett is chairman, State Senator J. B. Curtin commissioner, and Prof. Carl G. Plehn of the University of California secretary. This report presented figures concerning Orange county. It showed that by reducing the assessed property of public service corporations, such as railroads, express companies, telegraph and telephone companies, insurance companies and banks, and power and light companies, the remainder in this county would be about $27,000,000. Figuring the saving of the county of 36.4 cents per $100, which was the state rate for last year, on that total, it was proven that had the proposed system been in vogue last year Orange county's taxes would have been $51,000 less than they were.

Lucas stated that the system, now in use in Minnesota and Pennsylvania, allows each county to make its own assessment without regard to any other county, thus doing away with the equalization necessity of a state board of equalization. He said the system will increase the taxes paid by public service corporations in this state about $3,500,000.

From a pamphlet issued by the Associated Realty Boards it is learned:

"It requires but a thought to realize that under the proposed system the increase of revenue from the increase of business of corporations will keep pace with the increase of needs for revenue for state purposes."

"Among the proponents and strongest advocates of the Amendment are the State Board of Equalization, State Controller A. B. Nye, the State Realty Federation, the Commonwealth Club, the State Grange, numerous educational and civic organizations and the leading newspapers throughout the state."

Other Matters

The M. & M. directors gave their approval of a meeting to be held at Spurgeon's Hall at 12 o'clock next Thursday. The meeting is to be held in connection with the State Sunday School convention and is for business men, the noon hour being selected as a time when they could attend.

A resolution was passed asking the merchants and citizens to decorate their places of business and residences with the Stars and Stripes for the Sunday School convention.

The sum of $25 was donated to the Salvation Army.

HOMESTEADERS IN WEB OF DUPLICITY

Ranchers Indicted for Driving Land Squatters From Their
Nebraska Holdings

OMAHA, Nov. 3.—Nine indictments charging Western Nebraska ranchers with conspiracy to defraud homesteaders of their lands were returned today. The indictments charge that the ranchers persuaded the homesteaders that an effort was on to drive them out of the country, and caused an armed raid, and that they had "railroaded" one rancher to the insane asylum.

The disturbances are alleged to have occurred in Cherry and Garden counties. It is alleged that during the raid, the ranchers levelled their rifles on the homesteaders, while others cut harness, trampled crops, destroyed machinery and threatened death unless the homesteaders were withdrawn. Rancher Da'asher was sent to an insane asylum after he had threatened to kill the alleged raiders if they returned.

BLOWING UP OF MAINE
STORY IS CORROBORATED

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 3.—The statement of Captain Jasper Brady that the battleship Maine was blown up by a Cuban electrician stationed at Moro Castle, was corroborated today by Francis Atwater, who published a paper in Havana during the war.

Atwater said he cabled the War Department reciting the identical story now made public by Brady. Secretary Root, he said, acknowledged the receipt of his message.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR END OF STRIKE

Factions Agree on All But One Point—Express Companies
Losing $100,000 a Day

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Prospects of the settlement of the express drivers strike are bright. Representatives of the companies and strikers will meet this afternoon to outline a proposed agreement to be submitted to a general meeting of the unions tomorrow. All factions are reported as ready to agree on all points except union recognition. It is estimated that the express companies are losing $100,000 daily as a result of the strike.

MONSTER STRIKE IN WELSH
COAL FIELDS THREATENED

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Another revolt of trade unionists against their leaders is threatened in South Wales, where the Socialists among the miners are urging a general strike in the Welsh coal fields. Already nearly 30,000 miners are striking in sympathy with the men of the Ely Point, who struck on a question of pay for special work, and if the present agitation succeeds about 170,000 more men will be idle. Labor heads appeal to unions against the stoppage of work, predicting failure of the strike.

PORTUGAL REPUBLIC IS MENACED BY SOLDIERY

LISBON, Nov. 3.—The overthrow of Portugal's monarchy may result in a military revolution within the new government. The Second and Fifth regiments have addressed a round robin to Provisional President Braga, threatening to rebel if they were not granted the promised pensions and promotions for helping to depose King Manuel.

ALFONSO DEAD AND ROYAL FAMILY IN FLIGHT

Report of King's Assassination
In Madrid Received by London Dailies

RUMOR DISCREDITED AS COMMUNICATION IS OFF

Believed That Spain Is In Grip
of Revolution and Wild
Scenes of Disorder

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Rumors reached the French frontier this afternoon that King Alfonso has been assassinated and that the royal family had fled from Madrid. This report was telegraphed to the London dailies, which declared they were unable to verify because cablegrams, addressed to Spanish cities have not been delivered. The assassination report is not credited here.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Dispatches containing news that have been smuggled over the Spanish frontier state that twenty thousand soldiers have been added to the Madrid garrison and the garrisons at Barcelona and Sabadell have been augmented. Reserves created by conscription from the prisons and streets have been supplied to the loyalist officers.

The long predicted general strike, starting at Barcelona, is today sweeping the country. Workmen in all the larger cities are idle and business is stagnated. Every telegram and letter leaving the country is censored and portions adverse to the royalists are expunged.

PARIS HEARS NEWS OF SUCCESS OF REVOLUTION

PARIS, Nov. 3.—Agents of the Spanish Republican here predict that Madrid and Barcelona will be in the hands of the revolutionists within twenty-four hours. They claim to have received secret dispatches telling of the success of the revolutionary movements.

A substantial although unverified report is current that Prince Jaime, pretender to the Spanish throne, has crossed the frontier into Spain, heading several thousand troops. Republican sympathizers here regard the reported movement with distrust, believing Prince Jaime will subvert the Republicans to his own interests. Republican and Socialist papers here are jubilant over conditions in Spain. Although there is little actual detail of happenings in Madrid, the daily papers adopt the attitude that something momentous has occurred and more is coming. The silence of Spanish officials is taken to indicate the confirmation of the worst fears of King Alfonso's adherents here.

COMMUNICATION BETWEEN SPAIN AND ENGLAND BROKEN

LONDON, Nov. 3.—For the first time since the Anglo-Spanish peninsula campaign communication between the English and Spanish departments of state were interrupted today. There has been no word from Madrid for the last forty-eight hours although the foreign office has repeatedly tried to re-establish communication and learn the details of the uprising which is commonly believed to be sweeping the country.

CALM IS REPORTED

INSURRECTION SPREAD

American Marines Landed at Amalapa to Protect Americans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The state department has received advices that martial law has been declared in Honduras. Commander Hayes, of the gunboat Princeton, has wired that the rebels are in complete control of that section and that the insurrection is spreading throughout the country.

Ex-President Bonilla is taking advantage of the conditions and is planning a third end of the revolution. He has already gathered six hundred troops.

Valladares, commanding the rebels, has issued a proclamation that all foreign interests will be unmolested. The foreign consuls, Commander Hayes wired, do not put faith in this promise.

Revolution Looked For

SAN SALVADOR, Nov. 3.—Commandante Valladares who ran amuck recently and drove the foreigners from Amalapa, is reported having defeated a detachment of government troops sent to dislodge him. He manned rapid fire guns at the custom house with deadly effect.

A revolution is feared. American marines have been landed near Amalapa to protect Americans and their property.

ROOSEVELT WILL FLAY JOHN R. DIX

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Roosevelt went on a wild rampage today when he read Candidate Dix's statement during a speech in New York last night that, "Never has the country had such occasion to blush for the conduct of a man who was once its first citizen." Tramping back and forth in the car, Roosevelt shouted:

"Mr. Dix is exceedingly valorous the minute I leave the state. Doesn't he know I will answer him when I return. I will call the working men's attention to the fact that he holds the working man's compensation at unconstitutional, and several other things."

Dix also accused Roosevelt of willful falsehood and misrepresentation. Roosevelt is speeding toward Iowa, where he will speak in behalf of the Republican congressional candidates before returning to New York via Ohio.

DROP IN PRICES OF
HOGS COMING—ALSO IN ALL FOOD COSTS

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—All the packers today confirm the report that there will be a sharp drop in prices of all hog products within two weeks. The Union Stock Yards experts say that the scarcity of hogs will not be noticed within a month, and predict that the drop in the prices of hog products is a forerunner of a general reduction in all food products.

The conference is expected to last for several weeks, the object being a freer exchange of natural products and raw materials.

FRANCIS NAMED IN $67,000,000 SUIT

Ex-Governor Charged by People
With Giving a Costly
Bridge to Monopoly

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—Ex-Governor David R. Francis, director-general of the St. Louis Exposition, was today made co-defendant in a suit for $67,000,000. The amount represents the original investment needed to build the Merchants bridge across the Mississippi river, with rents and profits accruing for seventeen years.

The suit was filed in "The name of the People of America," and the proceedings follow the alleged exposure of a deal whereby Francis relinquished control of the bridge to the owners of the only other bridge crossing the river there, making possible a monopoly.

Times Jury Not Ready to Hear
Them—Rogers to Question
'Frisco Witnesses

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—The five witnesses who were examined before the grand jury this morning were Emily Stuperich, John Behnke, T. J. Branson, R. H. Bennie, Mrs. S. Stuperich. All are from San Francisco.

Mrs. C. D. Hurd and Mrs. Ethyl Gill, telephone operators in the Argonaut Hotel, San Francisco, and C. P. Roberts, a San Francisco newspaperman, arrived from San Francisco today, and will go before the grand jury. The telephone operators were in charge of the hotel switchboard when it is alleged a conversation concerning the Times dynamiting was overheard.

Deputy District Attorney McComas caused surprise by giving permission to O. A. Tivietmoe, Antone Johannsen and A. E. Yoell, state labor leaders, to return to San Francisco, although they were brought here to testify before the Times grand jury only yesterday. It is known the men have not yet testified. According to McComas, he gave his permission for their absence because they were not yet ready for their testimony.

It became known today that Earl Rogers had been commissioned special deputy district attorney. He immediately began his duty with the grand jury investigating the Times disaster. It is reported that he will be used to question the witnesses brought from San Francisco because of his knowledge of the case gained while heading the investigation on behalf of the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA'S SPECIAL INTEREST IN AMENDMENT NO. 1

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The Associated Realty Boards of California have prepared a statement addressed to the voters in the southern counties of California, in which it is set forth that these counties are greatly concerned, in the light of experience, in securing the adoption of Constitutional Amendment No. 1.

"The State Board of Equalization," so the statement runs, "in 1909 raised the assessments in the southern part of California, as follows:

In Los Angeles county, 40 per cent; in Orange county, 50 per cent; in Riverside county, 40 per cent; in San Bernardino county, 33 1-3 per cent; in Santa Barbara county, 25 per cent; in Ventura county, 100 per cent.

"The report of the state commission on revenue and taxation showing what would have happened in 1909 to the several counties under the operation of Constitutional Amendment No. 1 if it had been in force then, submits the following net gains for five of these counties in amounts:

Los Angeles county $1,001,185.00
Orange county 51,011.56
Santa Barbara county .. 38,817.22
Ventura county 34,933.96

San Diego county 56,491.27
"In 1908," so the commission on revenue and taxation reports, "we undertook to ascertain in detail the effect of the amendment on cities, within the counties. This was unnecessary in 1909, as the amendment provides that the counties shall provide out of their general funds for any special losses incurred by districts within their boundaries. It should be pointed out in this connection that part of the $1,000,000 gain made by the county of Los Angeles will, under this provision, go to equalize the burden between cities in that county. In the end, the net gain in Los Angeles county will be about the same as in San Francisco, which is a city and county in one."

The Associated Realty Boards of California set forth that, "If one thing is clear it is that the piling of the state tax on top of the local taxes is the first cause of the evils that we suffer. The local system of taxation was especially designed for the division of neighborhood charges among neighbors and is not adapted for the apportionment of other public expenses. Hence it becomes clear that the first step in tax reform is to get rid of the state tax. Then, and then only will it be possible to adjust the local charges with a single eye to justice between man and man."

The dangers to southern counties that are due to the present system of taxation are clearly seen by many Southern California newspapers. In a leading editorial the Los Angeles Herald describes the situation. A part of this editorial is as follows:

"Do you remember how, in 1909, the State Board of Equalization came down with a club on the fourth (Southern California) district, raising the assessment 40 per cent and taking $600,000 out of Los Angeles county alone? Do you want to put an end to the power of anybody to do that? Then vote in the coming election FOR Constitutional Amendment No. 1.

"Corporations will pay on gross receipts, the fairest method in the world, and when they pay their full share, real estate will bear a smaller share. The Southern Pacific does not like this Amendment No. 1 a little bit, but that shouldn't prejudice the humble owner of a small home against it.

"And we don't think it will. If he knows what is for his benefit, he will VOTE FOR AMENDMENT NO. 1."

THE BOY AND THE GANG
A professor in the University of Chicago has made a discovery about boys which he is exploiting while the people of the "Windy City" wonder at his wisdom. It is to the effect that boys naturally take to "gangs." This very patent and obvious fact is hailed as the latest in boy-culture, from which great things are expected. One would infer that this Solomon had never been a boy himself or had lost sight of the fact if he had.
That the human race is gregarious in its instincts is about the oldest and commonest fact about it, and that boys are human is also generally known though not fully realized by some. They naturally go in "sets" the same as grown-ups and mainly for the same reasons. There are two differences between them in this respect. One is that with adults, money cuts more or less of a figure, and the other is they do not call it "gangs" as do the boys. It's a "club" or something of that sort.
But however it may be, the Chicago professor is to be congratulated on discovering this tendency in boys, and is hereby informed that if he will take the pains to associate with them on an equality, and forget his paralyzing dignity when doing so, he will learn some more. He will learn a great many other things about boys and old folks, too. Among other things he will find out that the boy is father to the man, and despite all the polish you can put on him he will never be more than a grown-up boy. He will learn awful tricks, and, maybe, conform to the artificial rules society imposes upon him; but if he is worth his salt, he will chafe under them and seek the first opportunity to throw them off. Every game he engages in or is attracted to proves this, and when he goes camping in the mountains he as surely reverts to his boyhood as the needle to the poles.
There is a little difference in form but not enough to make any material difference in fact. He has his cares, which the boy does not, and that makes up for about all the seeming difference. The professor can go to the Chicago Board of Trade to study boys and go to the sixth grade of school to study the Chicago Board of Trade. They are both of a piece, though cut in a little different style.

language seems the only adequate medium of expression. It is useless to enumerate them here, for to mention a tithe of them would take up too much valuable time and space.
There are, however, no times or circumstances under which any self-respecting adult can find a rational excuse for blasphemy. Only weak, shallow and excitable minds find it necessary to resort to such an expedient to express themselves. The dippant use of sacred things for the purpose of unsacred impulses is not characteristic of the normal mind, and is an indication of a lack of poise. Only the weak or vicious take refuge in profanity or obscenity.
Some one has gone to the bottom of things and has discovered that there is in old and young a lack of reverence for Deity, and hence for father and mother, for the sacredness of the home, of matrimonial ties and of law and order. We are reaping the harvest we have sown in the growing disregard for all these things. Children of forty years ago imbibed the notion that there is nothing really sacred, and they have grown up in that belief. Their children are imbibing the same spirit, and now materialism is doing its "perfect work" in a lowering of the moral tone in the millions of its disciples. It is time that a protest should be made against the cult.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY
—It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?
But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town!
A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.
If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25 cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

TESTING FIRE CLAY.
The Most Practical Method is to Literally Eat It.
Fire clay has been in use for centuries, and yet I believe the industry is one which lacks definite laws more than any other, including those which are either modern or ancient and of less prominence. You can go to a manufacturer of steel and specify what you want by actual figures or statements and you can check the product by chemical analysis or mechanical tests and thus make sure you get what you need. The producer knows how to combine certain elements and what quantities of various kinds to combine in order to get a result at least very closely approaching what you call for, but not so in the fire clay business. In the past the most skilled and highest salaried chemists have been employed to make tests, to promote and carry through investigations on the natural product and to study the workings of certain manufactured and elaborated articles derived therefrom. The result has been, generally speaking, confusion worse confounded. Two professors, working at similar times on brick or clay obtained from the same source and manufactured under exactly equal conditions, have recorded diametrically opposed conclusions! The same scientists at different periods have reached vastly varying conclusions when testing identical qualities and shapes of bricks, so can you wonder if a prominent fire clay manufacturer should exclaim, as I heard one on an occasion after having the above experience, "All tests of fire clay are empirical, and I would sooner trust our superintendent to pick and select his clays in the old fashioned way than pay a high fee for a highbrow's recommendations?" The chief method of testing fire clay by a practical man is literally to eat it. He can detect grit and sand best by that method, and a good fire clay (free from silica, quartzite or flint clay) is free from grit. His only other personal test is by experiment.—Engineering Magazine.

A CHINESE BANQUET.
Culinary Mysteries That Bewildered an Englishwoman.
One moment we were eating ducks' eggs whose blackened, lime flavored whites indicated that their age was unimpeachable; the next we were grappling with sea weeds, macaroni and the slippery sharks' fins that eluded our clumsily manipulated sticks. Now we tackled—not without fear—unknown meats and vegetables cooked in sugar, fresh shrimps, mushrooms from Mongolia, young bamboo sprouts, y-goons' eggs and a hundred different foreign tasting messes. Then clean plates were given to us, and bowls of sticky pink sirup, sweet potato and Indian corn cakes of dusky hue were set before each one. These were only crevice fillers and concluded the first and lighter portion of the repast. Now came the real substantial meal, where in every dish had an accompaniment of smaller ones, containing gravies, etc., in which to dip the morsel taken from the central bowl.
There was stewed duck cooked without salt; roast sucking pig, forcemeat balls and chicken; there were soups of birds' nest, of mushroom, of vegetables and of sea slugs. There was grilled fresh water fish, which, according to custom, was helped from the top side only, for the Chinese remembers his servant. And, finally, at the conclusion the inevitable small bowl of rice and rice water was set before each person.
After some three hours, with a feeling of thankfulness that all was over, pipes, cigarettes and tea were served, and it seemed to me that the delicious aroma which rose from the latter soothed our senses and almost dispelled the antipathy that had been growing on us for all things Chinese.—Mary Moore in London Express.

Church Supper

One of the most pleasant of the many church suppers held by the First Congregational church members and congregation, was enjoyed last night in the banquet room of the beautiful new church building. Over 200 people sat down to an appetizing supper served at 7 o'clock, the substantial and delicacies having all been prepared by the ladies of the church. Roses and chrysanthemums were used in table decoration, and the charm of the beautiful flowers added greatly to the charm of the supper hour, during which the church family chatted sociably as they ate.

During the after-dinner hour, always one of the most enjoyable of these occasions, Rev. Chas. H. Secombe presided in his successful, winning way, making the speech of the evening, to which there were many ready and gratifying responses from members of the church and congregation.

Welcomed Home

Last night a number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hess, who returned Tuesday from a short bridal tour, were at the Allerton, of which Mrs. Hess, formerly Mrs. Iola Richards, is manager. The friends had gathered at the Allerton to tender a welcome to the returning couple, and a joyful informal evening was spent, during which the company presented Mr. and Mrs. Hess with some handsome table linen.

Progressive whist was played, Mrs. Olive Lopez and Mr. Newton winning high score. Later refreshments were served, ending the evening most pleasantly.

Losers to Winners

Another of those elegant balcony spreads for which the Dragon is famous was given last evening by the losers of a certain recent match golf game, the winners being banqueted. The presence of the wives of the players as guests of honor, rendered the dinner a far more delightful affair than it would have been otherwise.

Prettily decorated and daintily appointed, the banquet table was most inviting and the five-course, 7 o'clock dinner was served in the popular Dragon way. An elaborate speech for the losers was made by "Hike" Connell, which was feelingly responded to by "Johnnie" Tubbs.

The hosts were Hiram Connell, Henry Rutherford, Frank Remsburg and J. Fred Parsons, and so greatly did their guests enjoy the jolly little dinner that the losers of the golf game really felt happy over their defeat. Besides the hosts, covers were laid for their wives, and Messrs. and Mesdames John W. Tubbs, R. H. Sanborn, Jr., Joe Parsons and V. V. Tubbs.

Most Popular Candidate

The public will be given an opportunity to cast their votes for the most popular candidate in Orange county at the Sunshine bazaar, Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 5, at the Main Arcade. A handsome gift will be presented to the winner. Candidates may vote for themselves.

Notice, W. C. T. U.

All members and friends of the W. C. T. U. are asked to please send smiles, plumes and fern and chrysanthemums to the Odd Fellows Hall early Friday morning to be used in decorating for the teachers' banquet.

Missionary Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon at the beautiful new home of Mrs. S. H. Finley on East Fourth St. A large number of ladies were present. Mrs. Harry Dean led the devotional service. The subject for the afternoon's program was "Important Factors in Missions." Miss Rosaline Kellogg read a paper on Christian Literature.

Mrs. Samson read a paper and gave a talk on "The Work of the Young Women and Junior Societies."

Mrs. Robert McFadden read a paper on "Awakening Interest in Missions."

A committee consisting of Mrs. Robt. McFadden, Mrs. Leigh Galloway and Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, was appointed to prepare the program for 1911.

Mrs. Finley was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Mitchell, the hostesses serving delicious cake, coffee and sandwiches. The next meeting will be held on Dec. 7, at the home of Mrs. Robert McFadden.

Pro Bono Social

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Morrow on First street was the scene of a very pleasant gathering on last evening, the first after-vacation meeting in a social way of the Pro Bono Class of the United Presbyterian Sabbath school. It was one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held by this wide-awake class, and much interest was manifested in the parade on Thursday evening of next week. A transparency is being prepared, and the class as a whole will be looking forward to this opportunity of marching with so large a gathering of the Lord's people, and helping to hold aloft His banners here upon the Pacific coast.

After the business meeting had been held the remainder of the evening was spent in social amusements and mental labor. Among the latter was a spelling-down contest, that is, all but Mr. Henderson, the class teacher, and Mr. Samson, the pastor, were caught and had to sit down, but these two only retired from the field when there were no more words to conquer. Each guest was then given paper and pencil and told to write the names of the twelve tribes of Israel, the twelve apostles, and the last two judges and two kings. If in the hurry, Issachar or Thaddeus were forgotten they will probably be remembered all the better next time.

The company was divided into groups of five, and supplied with singing books by the entertainers, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, and each group asked to sing a certain number, all those present joining in the chorus. This was a great success and much enjoyed. After the serving of bounteous refreshments a vote of thanks was given the host and hostess for their gracious hospitality and all departed to their homes glad that they had been permitted to be present to enjoy the pleasures of the evening.

Hallowe'en Party

Mrs. Z. B. West last night entertained her Sunday school class of the First Baptist church at her home with a 6 o'clock dinner. The decorations of bats, black cats and witches were matched by the place cards bearing similar designs. Pumpkins of grinning design and jack-o'-lanterns were in evidence as house decorations.

The boys who enjoyed the merry dinner and evening were Wells Innes, Stanley Mansur, Alfred Catland, Harry Adams, Arthur Johnson, William Peterman, Guy Buffington, George Carey, Alex. Graham, John Hoxie, Cyril Reeder, Frank West.

Art Study Club

The Art Study Club met with Miss Gowdy and enjoyed a very pleasant evening with the "Illustrators." Mrs. Padgham introduced the subject in a very bright and interesting paper. She said the illustrators were very ambitious and willing to forego any pleasure and endure hardship in order to be successful and be famous. If they succeed they stand on equal footing financially with bankers and financiers. They can gain a livelihood of they can use a pen, crayon or brush in a striking manner. At the top stands Harrison Fisher. He loves work and his drawings are the essence of simplicity. He has attained the highest art, that of elimination—he knows what to leave out. He has created the "Fisher Girl," but it is not alone that he created the Fisher Girl. She created Fisher.

Then comes May Wilson Proctor, for the grown-ups and the tragedies of life. Miss Alexander after days at the library was unable to find any material for a paper, put on the finishing touch by bringing a great many pictures to show the work of all the illustrators. Her comments on the pictures of each artist were very interesting and helpful. She said in showing the works of the Leyendecker brothers, though born in Germany, they depicted American life in the true American spirit, and no one could doubt they were truly Americanized.

Mrs. Padgham next spoke of Ford, who had become noted for depicting negro life; next of Howard Chandler Christy, a pupil of Mr. Chase's and an illustrator of Leslie's Weekly, who went out with the Rough Riders. It is said he had only two years' training, but he is now in a position to refuse work.

Mrs. Nealley followed with an excellent paper on "Women Illustrators." She said they usually begin with children and Madonnas. Mrs. Jessie Wilcox Smith, one of the first, studied under Howard Pyle. She found her talent almost by accident, being a kindergarten teacher. One of her finest pictures is a beautiful baby with the mother in the background. Her pictures are always simplicity itself.

Mrs. Alice Barber Stephens, though she does not confine herself to children, draws them with great tenderness as well as great dramatic power.

Elizabeth Shippin Green's children are almost always drawn in quaint costumes. She works for the Ladies' Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post. Miss Rose O'Neill of Kewpie fame, is coming into prominence. She illustrates for the Woman's Home Companion, also writes the verses she illustrates.

Then comes May Wilson Proctor, for the grown-ups and the tragedies of life. Miss Alexander after days at the library was unable to find any material for a paper, put on the finishing touch by bringing a great many pictures to show the work of all the illustrators. Her comments on the pictures of each artist were very interesting and helpful. A CHINESE TITBIT.

Eggs That Have Been Preserved For a Century or More.

When Li Hung Chang made his tour of the world his commissariat carried with it a supply of Chinese preserved eggs for the venerable ambassador's special use. Some of these eggs were exhibited in New York while he was staying here, and a few experts had the temerity to sample them. "They were not so bad after all," was the verdict of one American connoisseur, "although by their looks you would think they would come under the ban of the pure food law."

The eggs were incased in clay and when unpacked looked like pieces of pumice stone. They are preserved in this way by the Chinese for a century or more, and Li Hung Chang admitted that the hen which laid the eggs for his morning meal might have been decapitated anywhere from a quarter to half a century before he was born. The process of keeping is very primitive, but as effective as it is simple. The eggs are first boiled hard, and then while they are hot they are wrapped in soft clay and packed away.

In this condition the Chinese claim they will keep forever and not lose their flavor or wholesomeness. Indeed, they consider that age improves the flavor. Li Hung Chang's commissariat brought the eggs for his personal use in bags packed in rice husks, but as the clay was hard there was not much danger of breaking them. When opened the "white" was found to be almost black and the yolks green. The flavor, however, was preserved. The Chinese chop these preserved boiled eggs and decorate most of their viands with them. They also enter largely into all their sauces.

Duck eggs are also preserved by the Chinese in a somewhat similar fashion. There is a considerable trade in duck eggs of the Peking and Muscovy breeds, and many Chinese in this country import them from China in the preserved condition. The duck eggs are boiled and preserved in a paste of charcoal instead of clay.—Harper's Weekly.

SEARCHLIGHTS.

A Special Pattern Must Be Used on the Suez Canal.

Every war vessel carries from one to twenty searchlights, and every vessel of any description whatever passing through the Suez canal has to carry one of a special pattern.

A searchlight consists essentially of an arc lamp of special form, a parabolic mirror and a case to hold the lot, the case being mounted so as to be capable of movement in two directions—viz, vertically and horizontally. The hood, as this case is called, is made of sheet steel about 3.32 inch thick. The turnable, trunnions, etc., are cast in gun metal. The arms which support the hood are of cast steel. The lamp box is formed as part of the hood. The mirror is carried on springs in the back cover, and at the front of the hood is a "front glass" mounted in a gun metal ring, and the dispersion lens when carried is hinged on in front of this. Training is carried out by means of a worm and worm wheel or by a rack and pinion. Slewing is effected by means of a pinion which gears into a crown wheel on the underside of the turntable, or else it is done directly by hand.

The Suez canal regulations require that the projector shall be capable of giving the light required under two different conditions—in the first case a broad, flat beam of light illuminating both banks and the canal uninterruptedly, this being used when no other ship is approaching; in the other case they require a beam having the same angle of divergence and consequently the same width as the first, but divided into two portions, with a dark interval between, thus giving light at both sides, but not directly in front, and so not interfering with the navigation of the approaching vessel.—J. M. Heeslop in Cassier's Magazine.

A Fortune in Snuffboxes.

Count Nesselrode, the Russian statesman of the last century, was a famous collector of snuffboxes. He collected them as a diplomatist, receiving one or two for each treaty he signed, and when he had got $100,000 worth of them turned them into cash and became a capitalist. His capital he invested so judiciously that his descendants are multimillionaires. The moral of Count Nesselrode's experience is that a snuffbox is not to be sneezed at.

Teaching the Teacher.

A village parish clerk who employed a grammarian to teach his daughter heard him with much surprise define the use of the articles "a," "an" and "the."

"You cannot place 'a,' the singular article, before plural nouns. No one can say, 'A houses, a horses, a'—"

"Hold there!" said the parish clerk. "I must contradict you in that. Don't I at church every Sunday say 'Amen?'"

ONE HATFIELD ATE CHICKEN

Fire Not Built by Sainz and Macias But by Another Hunted Man

Anaheim Gazette: A gentleman traveling from from Olinda some days ago met Floyd Hatfield walking on the highway toward the wells. Hatfield is being hunted by local officers for forging several checks on local business men two months ago. He eluded officers who were on his track the night of his crime, and has since successfully evaded arrest. He is believed to have gone in hiding somewhere in this vicinity.

Some weeks ago Deputy Sheriff Cervantes and a posse of officers drove over from Santa Ana in two autos and went to Brookhurst, where they had been informed two men had eaten a hastily prepared supper in a walnut orchard. It was believed the men were Sainz and Macias. Halting their autos a mile this side of the orchard, and extinguishing the lights, Cervantes and his men walked to the place, and found the embers of a smoldering fire, and near by the entrails and feathers of two chickens. One of the officers declared the imprints of two rifles could be seen at adjacent walnut trees, where the desperadoes had apparently stood their weapons while eating their evening meal.

Hatfield told the man on the Olinda road that the supper fire had been left by him. The officers made a search of the orchard, but found no trace of the men they were looking after.

USE TIZ—SMALLER FEET
Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Sore Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them

Everyone who is troubled with sore, sweaty, or tender feet—swollen feet—smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions can quickly make their feet well now. Here is instant relief and a lasting, permanent remedy—it's called TIZ. TIZ makes sore feet well and swollen feet are quickly reduced to their natural size. Thousands of ladies have been able to wear shoes a full size smaller with perfect comfort.

It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. HIRED APPLAUSE.

The Great Rachel Made the Claque Earn Its Money.

Speaking of applause in theaters, a theatrical man relates the following concerning the great actress Rachel: "It seems that upon a certain opening night Rachel received enthusiastic applause, but on the second night it was so noticeably slim that the actress felt deeply grieved and bitterly complained that the claque was not doing its duty. The leader of the hired 'applause makers' on hearing of her displeasure wrote her a letter in which he endeavored to excuse himself from any blame.

"Mademoiselle—I cannot remain under the obloquy of a reproach from such lips as yours," he began. "The following is an authentic statement of what really took place: At the first representation I led the attack in person not less than thirty-three times. We had three acclamations, four hilarities, two thrilling movements, four renewals of applause and two indelible explosions. In fact, to such an extent did we carry our applause that the occupants of the stalls were scandalized and cried out a la porte!

"My men were positively exhausted with fatigue and even intimidated to me that they could not again go through such an evening. Seeing such to be the case, I applied for the manuscript, and after having profoundly studied the piece I was obliged to make up my mind for the second representation to certain curtailments in the service of my men."

"The writer thus goes on at some length to assure the actress he will try to make future amends and requests her to believe in his profound admiration."—Exchange.

TALKING IN FIGURES.

Significance of Certain Numbers in the Telegraphers' Code.

"In the telegraphers' code numbers have special significance of which the general public is not aware," remarked a veteran key night the other day. "Most everybody knows that 30 means 'good night,' or the end of a story, but few outside the profession know that 31 is also a code sign. Railroad operators, however, know that this call is a signal to the operator at the other end to come back and repeat train signals to the sending operator. It also has another meaning. 'Train order to be signed by conductor and engine driver.' Nineteen, on the other hand, means that the train order is not to be signed by conductor or engine driver. Twenty-four has also the latter significance on some roads.

"Five is simply an interrogation point and in the vernacular could be translated 'Anything doing?' Thirteen signifies 'Do you understand?' Twenty-five means 'busy,' but nobody seems to know how it came to have that significance unless perhaps it means that the operator is still in the midst of his work, being some distance away from 30.

"Seventy-three means 'best regards,' and newspaper men and operators employ this expression constantly. Of course 23 has come to mean in this numerical language just what it does in ordinary parlance, 'skiddoo,' 'vamoose' or 'butt out' or any of the thousand and one other equivalents."—New York Herald.

The Governor's Quick Wit.
While talking to a former governor of Illinois, who was noted for the quickness of his wit, an English tourist spoke with special fervor of a sight he had seen in another state.

"I attended a Sunday service for the inmates of the state prison," he said, "and I learned that of the 208 persons now confined there all but twelve voluntarily attend religious services held in the prison chapel twice each Sunday."

"Most extraordinary," said the governor musingly. "I am sorry to say it is not so with us. But then," he added soberly, "in Illinois, you see, most of the respectable people do not come to prison."—Lippincott's.

Sign Language.

Brown and Jones were having their usual stroll and had just had a few minutes' conversation with Robinson, who was accompanied by his wife. After they had gone on some little distance Brown said to Jones:

"Did you notice that Mrs. Robinson never said a word?"

"Oh, yes," said Jones. "You see, she's deaf and dumb."

"Lucky chap is Robinson. But I suppose she can talk with her fingers?" asked Brown.

"I think so," replied Jones, "for Robinson hasn't a dozen hairs left on his head."

Settlement Work.

"Come into a fortune, didn't he?" "Yes, a big one."

"What's he doing these days?" "He has become interested in settlement work."

"Well, that ought to keep him occupied for awhile; he owed everybody."—Houston Post.

SUFFERS LOSS OF HIS ARM

Man at Fullerton Walked Against Engine and Received Severe Injuries

FULLERTON, Nov. 2.—Thomas Richards, an employee of the electric company which Saturday began to install electric switches for the Santa Fe company here, was struck by an A. T. & S. F. passenger engine near the station here Monday afternoon and suffered the loss of his right arm, while he was also bruised about the head and body, with possibly some internal injuries.

As passenger train No. 78, north-bound, was pulling into the station Richards walked along near the track with an armful of bolts which he was taking to where the force of men was working on a switch. Several who saw the accident say he walked through the crowd of people and right up against the engine, between the pilot and the cylinder, was knocked down and struck by the wheels. Engineer Love saw the man fall and instantly reversed the lever, bringing the train to a sudden stop. Richards was hurriedly taken in a dray to the city hospital, where he is receiving treatment. He is 35 years old, came from Texas two months ago and worked a short while for the electric switch company.

Thirty-eight cars of products were shipped from Fullerton during the past week, among them being twenty-two cars of tomatoes. The tomato harvest is now on in earnest and the California Vegetable Union is handling the largest quantities ever taken in one season here. Besides the tomato shipments, there were ten cars of walnuts, four cars of oranges and two cars of casabas.

PARENT TEACHERS' MEETINGS HELD

New Kindergarten Methods at Central—Lincoln School
Also Had Meeting

About thirty-five mothers and teachers gathered at the Central school building yesterday to hear Mrs. Prudence Stokes Brown in an address on and exposition of the new constructive kindergarten work. Mrs. Brown's demonstration of methods used in sand, clay and paper work was marvelous, and the mothers who witnessed it were delighted beyond measure.

With a class of twenty-five kindergartners, Mrs. Brown showed how thoroughly and practically the children could be taught the application of a principle without being aware that they were engaged in so serious a work. Even the mothers were drawn into the remarkable study, and all were convinced that the methods advanced by Mrs. Brown are of immense value.

Mrs. Brown, who was assisted by Mrs. Higby of Pasadena, has been sent out by the American Woman's League to organize and instruct child study circles, one of which is likely to be formed here soon as a result of yesterday's demonstration. The benefits of the circle will be extended free to every mother in the city who will take advantage of them.

At Lincoln School

At Lincoln school on last Tuesday afternoon, an interesting Parent-Teachers' meeting was held. Prof. Cranston praising its spirit highly. Mrs. J. N. Anderson gave an excellent exposition of the physical examination of school children, which was supplemented by remarks from Superintendent Cranston, who emphasized the necessity of such examinations, and from Prof. Roberts, who told of cases that had come under his own observation.

Mrs. Horace McPhee introduced the subject of inadequacy of time for fundamentals, which brought forth a lively discussion participated in by both teachers and mothers.

The committee in charge of the program consisted of Mesdames Anderson, Finley and McPhee.

SURGEON REMOVED BIT OF PENCIL LEAD

Newport Beach Man Grabs for Object and Received Unusual Injury

Mr. Orcutt of Newport Beach came here yesterday to have a surgeon take a piece of pencil lead out of his arm. Orcutt was reaching upward to turn on an electric light when a pencil dropped from his pocket. He made a quick movement to catch the pencil, and struck it with his forearm just as it stuck straight up from the top of a desk. The result was that the point was shoved deep into the flesh, where the lead broke off.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
